New Addition to SPL-R Family

Velodyne is introducing a new member of the SPL-R Series - the SPL-1500R. The SPL-R Series is now a family of four with the SPL-800R, SPL-1000R, SPL-1200R and now the SPL-1500R. This new addition builds on the same high performance you've come to expect from the SPL-R Series with 2000 watts dynamic and 1000 watts RMS power. Velodyne decided to introduce the SPL-1500R because the architecture of so many homes today require a large subwoofer due to high ceilings and open rooms that flow from one to the next. Velodyne kept the tradition of Small, Plays Loud with the SPL-1500R and you'll find it's the smallest and best performing 15" subwoofer available. The SPL-1500R will be available in either black pica or cherry finishes, and you'll see it in stores starting in May. The suggested retail price is $2,099.
